Hill Top Preparatory School

Making A World From Differences

WHO IS RIGHT FOR HILL TOP PREP?

Hill Top Prep is a co-educational day school for students in grades 6-12 with diagnosed learning disabilities. Our most successful students are bright and ready to fully participate in our unique and challenging educational community.

A Hill Top Prep student has the desire to understand their personal learning needs, interest to build self-advocacy skills, and the ability to move forward with success.

–Tom Needham, Headmaster

Many students find traditional school settings a challenge because they have difficulties with:

- Attention
- Processing speed
- Abstract reasoning
- Written expression
- Feelings of anxiety and inadequacy
- Social skills
- Transitions

While highly creative and talented, Hill Top Prep students are able to address their “multi-dimensional” learning needs. Our safe, nurturing environment allows for direct instruction of academic and social skills in small groups.

OUR UNIQUE PROGRAM

What sets Hill Top Prep apart is our understanding of and sensitivity for each of our student's needs. We provide an approach which is comprehensive, highly structured and supportive to help each student meet his/her unique learning challenges. Our program includes:

- Average class size of 5-8 students
- An academically rigorous college preparatory curriculum
- Strong group counseling and mentoring programs
- A unique phasing system to ensure that each student is appropriately challenged by the course content
- State-of-the-art technology, including laptop computers for all students
- Supportive programs based on multi-sensory teaching methods
- School-sponsored activities that promote social interaction and fun

GROUP COUNSELING/MENTOR PROGRAMS

Our teachers empower their students to believe in themselves, to discover and develop their strengths, and become successful well-rounded adults.

Hill Top Prep helps to facilitate the academic success of each of our students through the mentoring and group counseling programs. Valuable insight into each student's challenges, progress and successes is gained as a result of these programs. The student's mentor and counselor act as connections between home, school and other outside professionals. As students become more aware of their learning needs, they can self-advocate, leading to greater independence and self-reliance.

Mentoring

- Daily mentoring sessions help students understand their unique academic profile
- Additional support along with organizational and time management assistance allows students to fully realize their potential

Group Counseling

- Small group counseling sessions led by a licensed therapist are held twice weekly to provide students with a safe forum to explore and develop coping and social skills
- The atmosphere of trust that develops in these groups inspires tremendous personal growth in each student

The Arts Program at Hill Top Prep is a place where students can experience success through artistic self-expression and learn to think more expansively. We offer classes in visual and performing arts, music, drama, photography, woodworking and audio-visual production.

While learning disabled students may struggle academically, they often excel creatively and athletically.

Our physical education and athletics department concentrates on sportsmanship and working to build each student's self-esteem through participation. We offer a variety of interscholastic sports, including soccer, basketball and tennis.

WHAT ABOUT THE FUTURE?

"Hill Top Prep taught Drew the self-advocacy skills he needed to succeed in college. He is graduating from Bloomsburg with a 3.2 GPA"

Through Hill Top Prep's innovative and individualized program we enable our students to recognize that they have the ability to successfully overcome their learning disabilities. This self-awareness, combined with the many supportive aspects of our program, allows our students to manage the rigorous academic requirements successfully, and graduate as confident young men and women, equipped with the skills and tools to become responsible and productive adults.

- Over 95% of graduating students go onto higher education
- Experienced college guidance counselors assist students in making the next important step in their educational career
